

Olo

Each player places their marble on the ground at any place away from each other. The first player shoots their marble to try and hit the other players'. There are many ways of flicking the marble. Below are two examples.

1 - Use your thumb to flick the marble from your hand putting your knuckles down on the ground.

2 - Use your middle or index finger to flick the marble while supported by three fingers from your other hand.

If your marble knocks another, the other player is out of the game. The winner is the one who remains in the game after all the players are knocked out.